Notes

Commenced reading Story's Equity Pleadings¹ Thursday 4th August, 1859.

An original Bill, praying relief (the kind I shall have to file) Sec. 23 page 20.

This Bill should contain a clear and exact statement of all the material facts: Should show with reasonable certainty, the rights of the plaintiff; the manner in which he is injured; the person by whom it is done; the material circumstances of the time, place, manner, and other incidents, the particulars, in which he wants the assistance of the Court: (in other words) the relief; which he seeks; the prayer therefore, and also that the defendant may answer upon oath the matters charged against him; and lastly, that the case as stated and the relief as asked, are properly within the jurisdiction of a Court of Equity.

This bill is or may be composed of nine parts as follows; to wit.

1st The Directions or Address of the Bill This address must contain a technical description of the Court and must be varied accordingly page 23 sec. 20

2nd The Introduction which contains the names and descriptions of the persons, exhibiting the Bill, commonly called in the Bill by the title of 'your Orators or oratrix, according to their sex. pages 23 & 24 sec. 20.

3rd The third part is the 'Premise' or 'Stating-part' of the Bill which contains a narrative of the facts and circumstances of the plaintiff's case and of the wrong or grievance of which he complains and the names of the persons by whom done and against whom he seeks redress. This part claims the most careful consideration and appears to be the most important part of the Bill. pages 25 & 26 Sec. 27.

Notes

Commenced reading Story's Equity Pleadings: Thursday 4th August, 1859.

An original Bill, praying relief (the kind I shall have to file)
Sec. 23 page 20.

This Bill should contain a clear and exact statement of all the material facts: Should show with reasonable certainty, the rights of the plaintiff; the manner in which he is injured; the person by whom it is done; the material circumstances of the time, place, manner, and other incidents, the particulars, in which he wants the assistance of the Court: (in other words) the relief; which he seeks; the prayer therefore, and also that the defendant may answer upon oath the matters charged against him; and lastly, that the case as stated and the relief as asked, are properly within the jurisdiction of a Court of Equity.

This bill is or may be composed of nine parts as follows; towit.

1st The Directions or Address of the Bill This address must contain a technical description of the Court and must be ~~united~~ accordingly page 23 sec. 26

2nd The Introduction which contains the ~~names~~ and descriptions of the persons, exhibiting the bill, commonly called in the Bill by the title of 'your Orators or oratrix, according to their sex. pages 23 & 24 sec. 26.

3rd The third part is the 'Premise' or 'Stating-part of the Bill which contains a narrative of the facts and circumstances of the plaintiff's case and of the wrong or grievance of which he complains and the names of the persons by whom done and against whom he seeks redress. This part claims the most careful consideration and appears to be the most important part of the Bill. pages 25 & 26 Sec. 27.
